Russian poker player (born 1952)

Konstantin Puchkov (born 1952) is a Russian poker player, horse trainer and horse breeder from Moscow. He was the fourth Russian-born player to earn a World Series of Poker bracelet.[1] He is best known for having earned a World Series of Poker bracelet in his first World Series of Poker in the money finish (2010 World Series of Poker Event #31: H.O.R.S.E.,R$1,500 buy-in) and setting the record for most in the money finishes at one series during the 2012 World Series of Poker (11).

Puchkov had gone cashless in three prior World Series of Poker Series, including 21 events in 2009 prior to winning a bracelet in his first in the money finish.[1] He claims his 21 events without cashing is a record. He also says that at both the 2007 and 2008 World Series of Poker, he only played in the main event.[2] He names all the horses that he breeds after poker terms.[1] According to his World Poker Tour profile, he began playing poker exclusively in Russia, before playing internationally in 2007.[3]

Jeremy Hunt advertece cautela aos conservadores sobre a necessidade de permanecer no centro político

Jeremy Hunt, o chanceler do Reino Unido, advertiu os conservadores de que as eleições são ganhas a partir do centro político, enquanto teme que o partido possa se deslocar para a direita poker pc resposta ao retorno de Nigel Farage à política ativa.

Em uma entrevista ao Guardian, Hunt sugeriu que o partido deve permanecer uma "igreja ampla" apesar das preocupações de que o Reform UK possa custar aos Tories até 60 assentos nas eleições gerais.

Dados eleitorais

Partido	Intenção de voto
Trabalhista	40%
Conservador	19%

Reforma UK 17%
Liberais Democratas 10%

Uma pesquisa do YouGov, a primeira desde que Farage anunciou que concorreria para se tornar um MP, mostrou a Reforma subindo para apenas dois pontos atrás dos Conservadores.

Quando perguntado se os Conservadores deveriam se posicionar à direita poker pc resposta à ameaça da Reforma, Hunt respondeu: "As evidências do Reino Unido mostram que as eleições são sempre ganhas a partir do centro político e acho que isso sempre será o caso poker pc um sistema de dois partidos."
